DEDICATION

This review of the history of the Kansas Association of Future Farmers of America is respectfully dedicated to all present and past members of the organization.

As is true with most compilations of this sort, only a few of the many members can be recognized by name. Those listed have rightfully gained this honor through outstanding contributions to the Kansas FFA. At the same time, the efforts of the unlisted members have added strength, purpose and vitality to the efforts of the organization and the agricultural industry.

To all who have worn the blue and gold of the Kansas FFA, this book is dedicated.

FOREWORD

The Kansas Association of the Future Farmers of America was formed with a purpose in mind—to serve the needs of boys enrolled in high school vocational agriculture programs. Keeping that purpose in mind, the organization has recognized many young agriculturalists—both male and female—for achievements in agriculture and agricultural-related areas. It has bestowed honors on past members and on others who have contributed to the growth and strength of the organization.

Recognition and honor, though, do not measure the true success of the Kansas FFA. Desirable characteristics added to the lifestyles of FFAers measure the true success of the organization. The State Farmer Degree does not make an FFA member successful, but the education gained while earning it and the motivation received from the recognition, may encourage the member to reach higher. The office of Chapter President does not make a member an effective leader, but the better understanding of people that is gained and the development of responsible behavior while in office, may encourage the member to consider his part an important part in developing his world.

Assistance to the organization is given daily by parents of FFA members, vocational agriculture instructors, school administrators and staff, community members, businessmen and FFA alumni. Without this support, the scope and effectiveness of the organization would not be possible.

An organization of this type has a very intangible history. The real history can be found in the lives of present and past members. The best we can do to record the history, then, is to record the honors, awards, degrees and changes which have been given and have occurred.

This history of the Kansas Association of the FFA is intended to supplement official FFA publications, previous history books and chapter records. Not to be mistaken as an organization which has reached its potential, the Kansas FFA is a flexible organization which will respond to the initiation and innovation of future members. May this record of the past provide motivation for the present and future members.

Kansas FFA's Golden Years

The Kansas Association of the Future Farmers of America—what golden years the organization has had! Kansas FFA organized in April 1929 and was chartered nationally on September 3, 1929. The Kansas charter was number sixteen in the nation and bears the signatures of Leslie Applegate, national president and Henry C. Groseclose, national executive secretary.

The organizational meeting on April 12, 1929, was held in conjunction with the State High School Agricultural Judging Contests at Kansas State College. At the meeting, 42 delegates from 21 schools formed the Future Farmers of Kansas and elected the first set of state officers.

The first Kansas FFA publication was dated May 1929, under the title of "Future Farmers of Kansas." This publication gave high school vocational agriculture programs the directions for petitioning charters, set up the state's first program of work, carried the state association's constitution and by-laws, and stated that the duties of the executive secretary would be handled by the state supervisor's office, with L. B. Pollom as supervisor.

The September issue of the "Future Farmers of Kansas" contained much valuable information on the details of the Kansas FFA's first affiliation with the State Fair in Hutchinson. The day's activities included a farm machinery tour, a judging demonstration, group attendance at the afternoon grandstand performance, dinner, a meeting, and the first State Farmer Degree initiation. The first American Farmer candidate, Boyd Waite, was also chosen on this day.

From its beginning, the FFA has been closely associated with high school vocational agriculture programs. The first state program of work, 1929-30, called for an FFA chapter in every department of vocational agriculture by the end of the school year. Although that goal was not reached, 186 chapters were chartered in the first fifteen years of the Kansas Association.

Kansas' active involvement with the National Association of Future Farmers of America began early. Boyd Waite, first Kansas FFA president, was chosen at the second national convention to serve as the Fourth Vice President, representing the North Central Region. His term continued until the third convention in November 1930. Within the next eight years, three additional Kansans were elected to national offices. To date, nine Kansas FFA members have served the FFA as national officers.

Although formation of local FFA chapters has been solely voluntary, the involvement and enthusiasm put forth by FFA members has been remarkable. The following passage was taken from the 1942 Public Speaking Contest entry of Alber VanWalleghen, Shawnee Mission.

"The All-Night Vigils at farrowing time will be our sentry duty; the tractors we guide along contour rows will be our tanks; the seeds we plant will be our inland ocean mines; farm machinery we repair will convert our farm shops into our own ground crew work; agricultural information we use will be our own intelligence work; our neighbors will be our Allies in a common cause. We will regard every dead pig, every missing hill of corn, every smutted wheat head, every scrub animal, every cull hen, and every bit of wasted material and effort as being of aid and comfort to our enemies."

Leadership being a cornerstone of the FFA, many intelligent young people have served the Kansas Association as state officers. The first set of state officers consisted of a president, a vice president and a secretary-treasurer. A reporter was also appointed during this first term. Since that first year, the duties of secretary-treasurer have been divided between two officers and a sentinel has been added, making the state officers a six-member team.

In addition to the student state officers, an executive secretary and an adviser have guided and assisted the Kansas Association.

The annual convention of the National FFA is an exciting event for FFA members. This meeting has been held in Kansas City, Missouri, throughout the life of the organization. Kansas delegates to this convention have helped formulate the policies which govern the welfare of the FFA.

The Soloman FFA dinner orchestra, under the direction of Paul Chilen, Solomon vocational agriculture instructor, performed at the 1937 National FFA Convention as the organization celebrated its Tenth Anniversary. Their performance at the convention banquet of 1200 persons brought cheering and hand clapping which drowned the orchestra music. The Solomon entertainers returned to the National Convention in 1938 and 1939. The group entertained at the Kansas FFA Conventions of 1936-1939. Their career climaxed with a trip to The World Poultry Congress in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1939.

The State Farmer Degree is the highest degree of membership which a state association may confer upon its members. Over the years specific qualifications for the degree have changed, but always the degree has been reserved for FFA members demonstrating high levels of leadership, scholarship and occupational development. Currently, three percent of the state's membership may receive the degree each year.

Honorary State Farmer Degrees are presented to Kansans who have given superior service to vocational agriculture and/or FFA in the state. Reserving this degree for only those whose service is of a high level, maintains the significance of this award.

The American Farmer Degree is the highest degree of the FFA and the most coveted degree by FFA members. This degree is bestowed by the national organization and, as the state farmer degree, requires achievement in leadership, scholarship and occupational programs. The state association is responsible for submitting only its most qualified candidates for this degree.

Honorary American Farmer Degrees are also awarded to individuals who have given outstanding service to vocational agriculture and/or FFA in the nation. As the American Farmer Degree is given only to the top FFA members, so the Honorary American Farmer Degree is awarded only to those who have highly served the national organization.

Wishing to recognize the top FFA members receiving the American Farmer Degree, the Weekly Kansas City Star developed a program of Star Farmers in 1929. A Star Farmer of America was selected from the American Farmer Degree class and given a cash award. Beginning in 1936, a Star was selected from each state and from each region. This program continued with minor changes until 1948. Since that time, the Star Farmer of Kansas has been selected from the State Farmer Degree class and the additional Star awards continue to be determined by the American Farmer Degree class.

Until 1940, the national FFA organization presented a bronze plaque and the Groseclose Challenge Trophy to the top chapter in the nation based on organization, growth and advancement, activities and accomplishments, and savings and investments. The Kansas Association received Honorable Mention in 1932. In 1940, the award changed to four classifications—Gold Emblem, Silver Emblem, Bronze Emblem and Honorable Mention.

The National Better Chapter Contest was begun in 1929. Farm Journal was the contest sponsor in 1929 and 1930 and the National FFA assumed responsibility in 1931. Until 1939, a top chapter in the nation was chosen. In 1940, this award also changed to the four classifications of Gold, Silver, Bronze and Honorable Mention. The 1935 contest was won by the Shawnee Mission chapter of Merriam, Kansas.

The Kansas Association began a Chapter Contest in 1932. This same year marked the adoption of a rule requiring all local chapters to file a program of work with the state office to be eligible for state and national FFA competition. From 1932 to 1938 Kansas Chapter Contest winners were designated as Outstanding. Beginning in 1938, the classifications of Outstanding and Honorable Mention were begun.

The first National Public Speaking Contest was held in 1930 at the third national convention. Arthur Capper, Kansas, sponsored the first two contests and the National FFA assumed responsibility of the contest in 1932.

The first Kansas FFA Public Speaking Contest was also held in 1930. In the early years of the contest, state entrants were not required to advance through chapter or district contests.

Communication within the Kansas Association of the FFA has always been important because of the great amount of activity within the organization and because the FFA has been responsive to its members' needs. The first issue of a Kansas FFA newsletter was published May 1929. A second issue followed the national chartering of the Kansas FFA in September 1929. Three subsequent issues were published during Kansas FFA's first year.

Because of the emphasis placed on leadership education by the Kansas FFA, district leadership schools were begun in 1931. Host chapter for the first leadership school was Shawnee Mission.

Kansas FFA did not escape the pressures of World War II. Many FFA advisers and members served actively in the U.S. armed forces and many more were actively involved in the war efforts within the state.

Immediately following the attack on Pearl Harbor, the Kansas Association added four goals to its program of work—emphasis on the salvage campaign, the purchase of bonds and stamps, increased food production, and the reconditioning of farm machinery and equipment. The Hill City FFA Chapter is recorded as opening its vocational agriculture shop to area farmers so that they might also join in the self-repair of machinery.

Participation in the 1943 National FFA Convention was limited and travel was encouraged by common carrier to conserve gasoline and tires. George Stelter, Abilene became the National Third Vice President when his predecessor entered the armed forces. One change Stelter proposed while in office was to remove the words "Watch Dog" from the FFA manual and to substitute the word "Sentinel." The change was approved.

Kansas Chapter Contest Awards underwent another change in 1944. Instead of Outstanding and Honorable Mention, award groups were designated as Gold Emblem, Silver Emblem, Bronze Emblem and Honorable Mention, as was done by the national association.

The Future Farmers of America Foundation, Inc. was incorporated on March 29, 1944. The Board of Trustees approved the foundation awards made possible by this move, in October 1944. The 1945 Kansas FFA Convention was not held because of ODT regulations. The State Executive Committee and the State Officers handled the business.

The Future Homemakers of America were formed in 1945. Their organization was patterned somewhat after the FFA and became the vocational organization often associated with the FFA. During their first year, 44 state organizations were chartered and Deania Burnworth, Independence, Kansas, was one of the first 11 national vice presidents.

In 1947, the National FFA Judging Contests resumed. Because of the war, they had last been held in 1941.

On the State level in 1947, the Agricultural Education club of KSC began presenting a plaque to the team with the most points at the Vocational Agricultural and Farm Mechanics contests at KSC. The first winning team of this award was the Beloit chapter, Howard Bradley, adviser.

The first National FFA Band performed at the 1947 National Convention. The first National FFA Chorus sang at the 1948 Convention. Dr. James W. Hatch, assistant state supervisor of agricultural education in New York, was the director.

January 1948 marked the opening of the FFA Supply Service at the National FFA Camp at Alexandria, Virginia. This was a department of the FFA Foundation and would make all official FFA items available from one source, increasing the uniformity of FFA paraphernalia.

Kansas FFA dues were raised for the first time ever at the 1949 State Convention. Raised from 10¢ to 20¢, the reasoning was that, because of the location of the National FFA Convention, Kansas was expected to provide more than its share of musicians for the event. The additional revenue was needed for this reason. This increase made a member's total dues 30¢.

In early 1950 the Board of Trustees of the Future Farmers of America Foundation voted to extend the foundation awards so that medals would be available for proficiency award winners on the chapter level.

A large balance in the Kansas FFA Treasury in 1951 allowed the September 15, 1951 issue of the "Kansas Future Farmer" to include pictures.

In 1952, by a vote of six to two, the Board of Directors of the National FFA decided to publish "The National Future Farmer" magazine on a quarterly basis and hoped to have the first issue out by October, 1952. The Kiowa chapter was the first chapter to send 100 percent subscription to the magazine. During the first year, 103 Kansas chapters subscribed.

The 1951 State FFA Judging Contests changed the traditional team rankings to Gold, Silver and Bronze Emblem classifications. This system put ten percent of the teams in the Gold class, 15 percent in the silver class and 20 percent in the bronze group.

The Silver Anniversary of the Kansas Association of FFA was celebrated at the 1954 Convention. A history of the organization was compiled by A. P. Davidson.

Upon A. P. Davidson's relinquishment of editorship of the "Kansas Future Farmer," Frank Carpenter became the new editor. Mr. Carpenter's first issue was the September 1956 issue.

Kansas FFA dues were raised once again during the 1958 convention.

Dues were increased to 40¢ and 25¢ was added to each member's dues to purchase a subscription to "The National Future Farmer" magazine.

In an effort to increase participation of chapter delegates in the business of the Kansas FFA Association, the 1959 State FFA Convention marked the beginning of business sessions during the convention. Two delegates were allowed from each chapter and in addition to attending the business sessions, delegates were assigned to state committees for the duration of the convention. Delegates could not be entered in any state contest competition because State Judging Contests were still being held in conjunction with the Convention.

The Kansas State University Collegiate Chapter of the FFA was chartered in 1959. The first officers elected were: Joe Seibert, president; Larry Johnson, vice president; Larry Justice, secretary; Gary Harmon, treasurer; Bill Fultz, reporter; Carl Whitcomb, sentinel; George Huitt, parliamentarian; P. N. Stevenson, adviser and R. J. Agan, assistant adviser.

Four Kansas State FFA officers attended the first National FFA Leadership Training Conference in Washington, D.C., July 21-24, 1959. The National FFA Building was dedicated during the conference and the dedicatory address was given by Kansas Senator Frank Carlson.

Also in 1959, Bonner Springs, Kansas, was chosen as the site for the Agricultural Hall of Fame. This selection came about through the combined efforts of the Kansas FFA, Kansas farmers and businessmen, and the Kansas Governor and Legislature.

In August of 1960, the first Kansas FFA Leadership Training Camp was held at Camp Fellowship near Goddard, Kansas. A total of 180 campers represented 33 chapters.

In 1960, the National FFA Convention began limiting FFA member attendance. The first FFA Day at the American Royal was October 14, 1960.

The First Kansas FFA Chorus performed at the 1962 Kansas FFA Convention. Professor Morris Hayes, KSU Music Department, directed the group of singers.

Kansas FFA began its operation of the Kiddie Barnyard at the State Fair in Hutchinson in 1965. The barn was filled with farm animals, many with offspring, so that youngsters and urban visitors could get a close look at farm livestock.

In June of 1966, the first Ag-Related Occupations Awards were given. The top individual award was given to Bob Burton, Columbus and the top chapter award went to the Columbus FFA.

A vote of 76 to 35 at the 1969 National FFA Convention allowed females into the Future Farmers of America. An amendment which would have allowed this had been introduced at the five previous conventions.

The first Star Agribusinessman of Kansas was Robert Schrag, Moundridge, named at the 1970 Kansas FFA Convention. Schrag's operation was a feed milling and trucking business.

Also at the 1970 Kansas FFA Convention, the first "Seven Stars Over Kansas" film was shown. The film, showing the seven district star farmer operations, was funded by Farmland Industries and produced by George Logan, Farm Director of WIBW TV-radio. This film won the national Oscar Award in the Agriculture Division of the Radio and Television Category.

Increased awareness of rural communities was the goal of the FFA

"Building Our American Communities" program, announced in 1970. The program was a joint effort of the FFA, the U.S. Office of Education and the Farmers Home Administration, to increase the value of rural American communities.

In 1971 the Kansas FFA Convention and the Kansas FFA Judging Contests were held separately to allow participation in both events by FFA members. Connie Story placed first in the Meats Contest in 1971, the first girl to win a Kansas FFA Judging Contest.

The Kansas FFA Alumni Association was chartered in 1971, the first state alumni affiliate in the nation. This distinction was a showing of the strong support of FFA youth by past members of the organization.

The first District Greenhand Conference was held by the Hill City FFA chapter members on February 26, 1972. Attending this first conference were 75 greenhand members, eager to learn more about their organization.

FFA members attending the FFA Leadership Camp during the summer of 1975, were the first to learn the details of a new program for the FFA, the "Food for America" campaign. The heart of the program was to be FFA members' visits to local elementary schools to tell the story of agriculture to children. FFA Chapters responded in a variety of ways including farm animal zoos, slide shows and coloring books.

The Garlow Memorial Trophy was first given at the 1974 Kansas FFA Convention. Given to the top chapter in the state, the trophy was a memorial to Bob Garlow, 1973-74 State Reporter, who was killed in a plane crash while in office.

The State Extemporaneous Speaking Contest and the State Creed Contest were begun in the spring of 1976. Extemporaneous contestants were required to prepare a four to six minute speech in 30 minutes. The creed contest was designed for greenhand FFAers.

The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Kansas Association of the FFA was celebrated by Kansas FFA members at the 1978 State Convention. Special recognition was given to past leaders of the association and an anniversary section was included in the "Kansas Future Farmer."

Jim Ramsbottom, Belleville FFA, won a national contest in 1978 sponsored by Hesston Corporation, by writing the winning "Salute to Agriculture." Ramsbottom read his piece at the 51st National FFA Convention in 1978 and it was also aired during the National Rodeo Finals.

The first Kansas FFA Leadership-Citizenship Day was held January 22, 1979. The event encouraged FFA members to become involved in and to be informed of citizenship and leadership in state government.

Howard Bradley, former executive secretary of the Kansas FFA Alumni Association, received one of three 1979 Future Farmers of America Alumni Outstanding Achievement Awards. Bradley was executive secretary of the alumni organization from 1977 until 1979.

In 1981, the Kansas FFA Association joined the Kansas Farm Bureau, the Kansas Bureau of Investigation and the Kansas Sheriff's Association in the fight against theft of farm equipment. A program consisting of identification numbering of equipment received the assistance of Kansas FFAers.

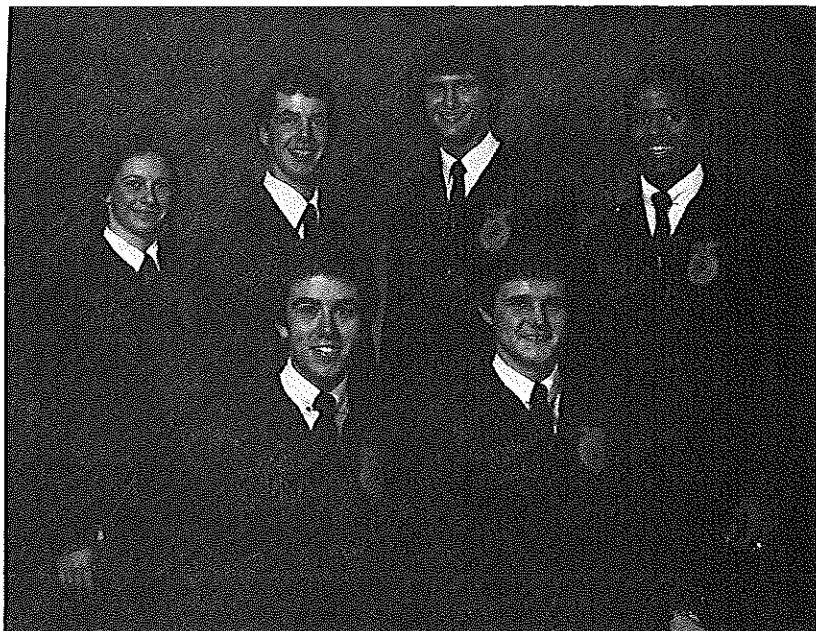

The first Kansas FFA Band performed at the 1981 State Convention, adding to the convention atmosphere.

A Kansan, Lu Achilles Wall, executive assistant to the chairman of Hesston Corporation, was chosen as the chairman of the National FFA Foundation Sponsoring Committee for 1982.

The Kansas FFA Foundation is being organized as this history is written. The Foundation will support all segments of agricultural education in Kansas, including the FFA, Young Farmers and Kansas Post-Secondary Agricultural Student Organizations.

As of the 1982 Kansas FFA Convention, there are 7020 FFA members in 165 FFA chapters across the state. The activities of these chapters and these members will continue to grow and to change and the Golden Years of Kansas FFA will continue to be counted. The needs of young agriculturists are being met in Kansas and across the country by the FFA organization.

KANSAS STATE FARMERS

The highest degree the Kansas Association can confer on FFA members is "State Farmer". This degree may be bestowed on only a certain percent of the state's membership each year and is governed by minimum qualifications. High levels of achievement in leadership, scholarship and agricultural supervised occupational experiences are required for this degree.

Because of their close location to the National FFA Convention and their desire to serve the National FFA, the Shawnee Mission chapter often provided manpower for this national event. This group of Shawnee Mission FFAers helped build the Star Farmer stage set for the Twentieth FFA Anniversary Celebration.

With teamwork and the FFA's sheep dipping vat, 1945 Clay Center members were able to make short work of a member's flock. This project is an example of the cooperative work encouraged by the FFA.
